Scheme for felicitating the Best Social Worker

Goa gives a cash award and felicitation to individuals who have done good social work for the common man, on the occasion of Goa Liberation Day.

What you may get

A cash award of Rs 25,000, along with a shawl and a coconut, is given to the selected best social worker at the Goa Liberation Day function. One social worker is chosen from each taluka.

Who it is for

Individuals living in Goa whose work for the poor and needy is honoured by the public, irrespective of caste or creed.

Main conditions

- The applicant must be a resident of the state of Goa.
- The application must describe the services the person has given to the common man, with proof such as photographs, news reports or articles.
- Any individual can apply, irrespective of caste and creed, if the public honours the work.

Documents

- Proof of the various social activities conducted by the applicant
- Aadhaar card
- Residence certificate
- Election photo identity card

How to apply

1. Watch the local daily newspapers for the notice inviting applications from individuals.
2. Write your application describing the social work done and attach proof of it along with the Aadhaar, residence certificate and election card.
3. The Directorate of Social Welfare scrutinises the applications and puts them before the Government, which selects the awardee for each taluka.
