ICDP Development Support for Coffee in Traditional Areas and Non-Tribal Growers of Non-Traditional Area

Under the Integrated Coffee Development Project, the Coffee Board gives subsidy to coffee growers for replanting old plantations, water sources, quality upgrading, eco pulpers and certification. The payment goes to the grower's bank account after inspection.

What you may get

Subsidy support for improving a coffee holding: replanting old or unproductive plantations, creating irrigation water sources, quality upgradation, eco pulpers, organic or eco certification, grower groups (FPOs) and wrapping material against white stem borer. The rate depends on the activity and the size of the holding, and SC and ST growers get a higher rate. The subsidy is paid to the bank account through PFMS after a feasibility report and a field inspection.

Who it is for

Registered coffee growers in the traditional coffee areas and non-tribal growers in non-traditional areas, including companies, cooperatives, self-help groups and FPOs that hold coffee land.

Main conditions

- The applicant must be a registered coffee grower, or register on the Coffee Board portal before applying.
- Replanting is meant only for old, senile and low yielding Arabica or Robusta plantations, done by clean replanting or interlining.
- Work must begin only after the Technical Feasibility Report is issued, because work done earlier gets no support.
- Applications are handled in order of receipt, and support depends on the funds the Board has for the year.
- SC and ST applicants must attach a caste certificate from the competent State authority.

Documents

- Aadhaar copy as photo identity
- Land ownership proof such as patta or khata with RTC in Karnataka, chitta and adangal in Tamil Nadu, or a possession certificate in Kerala
- Copy of bank pass book showing account number, branch and IFSC code
- Caste certificate for SC and ST growers
- Registered general power of attorney, if a power of attorney holder applies

How to apply

1. Register as a grower on the Coffee Board website or the India Coffee App and wait for the officer to approve the registration.
2. Apply online for a Technical Feasibility Report for the activity, with your identity and land documents. A small grower who cannot apply online may give a paper application at a Coffee Board office.
3. Take up the work only after the feasibility report arrives, then file the claim online with the expenditure statement and bank details.
4. The field office inspects the work, and the subsidy is paid to your bank account through PFMS.
