Financial Assistance to Kashmiri Migrant Families Scheme

Haryana gives monthly financial help to Kashmiri families who migrated from Jammu and Kashmir and live in the state, if their income is up to Rs 2,00,000 a year.

What you may get

Rs 1,700 a month for each member of the family, the rate in force from 1 November 2025. The help for re-settlement runs for five years in total.

Who it is for

Families displaced from Jammu and Kashmir who now live in Haryana and whose yearly income from all sources is up to Rs 2,00,000.

Main conditions

- The family has migrated from Jammu and Kashmir to Haryana and lives in some part of the state.
- The yearly income of the displaced family from all sources must not be more than Rs 2,00,000.
- The help for re-settlement is given for a total period of five years.

How to apply

1. Apply online through the Saral Haryana portal (saralharyana.gov.in). The department's Right to Services list links the notification and the form for this help.
2. The District Social Welfare Officer of your district is the designated officer for the case, and the time limit for the service is 60 days.
3. If the case is not settled, you can take it first to the Additional Deputy Commissioner and then to the Deputy Commissioner of your district.
