Scheme for Adolescent Girls (SAG)

Out-of-school girls aged 14 to 18 in four Maharashtra districts get take-home nutrition and training in life and vocational skills through their Anganwadi.

What you may get

Take-home ration as nutritious food for out-of-school girls, training in life, home and vocational skills, awareness on health, nutrition and cleanliness, and help to return to formal or informal education.

Who it is for

Girls aged 14 to 18 who do not attend school and live in Gadchiroli, Nandurbar, Dharashiv (Osmanabad) or Washim district.

Main conditions

- The girl must be 14 to 18 years old.
- She must live in one of four districts: Gadchiroli, Nandurbar, Dharashiv (Osmanabad) or Washim.
- The scheme is for girls who do not attend school, in the Anganwadi area.
- Anganwadi workers select the eligible girls in their villages.

How to apply

1. Meet the Anganwadi worker of your village, because she selects the eligible adolescent girls.
2. Selected girls take part in training at a nearby Anganwadi centre and receive the take-home ration.
3. Progress is watched regularly and records are kept by the Anganwadi.
