Village Child Development Center (VCDC)

Village Child Development Centres at Anganwadis in Maharashtra give extra nutrition and health checks to children aged 0 to 6 with severe acute malnutrition.

What you may get

Children with severe acute malnutrition are fed a nutritious meal six or more times a day at the Anganwadi, and also get energy dense nutritious food, a weekly visit by an ANM and a check by a Primary Health Centre medical officer within 15 days.

Who it is for

Children aged 0 to 6 years who suffer from severe acute malnutrition (SAM).

Main conditions

- The child must be between 0 and 6 years old.
- The child must have severe acute malnutrition, found by weight, height, mid-upper arm circumference and swelling (oedema).
- The child is cared for at the village or Anganwadi level centre.
