Indira Gandhi National Vridhavastha Pension Yojana

Madhya Pradesh pays a monthly pension to people aged 60 and above from families below the poverty line, under the central National Social Assistance Programme that the state runs.

What you may get

Rs 600 a month for people aged 60 to 79, made up of Rs 200 from the Centre and Rs 400 from the state. People aged 80 and above also receive Rs 600 a month, made up of Rs 500 from the Centre and Rs 100 from the state.

Who it is for

Men and women aged 60 or more from a family below the poverty line in Madhya Pradesh.

Main conditions

- Age must be 60 years or more. Both men and women can apply.
- The family must be below the poverty line as defined by the Government of India.
- Pensioners are verified through the Digital Life Certificate (DLC) mobile app, under the department's NSAP instructions.

Documents

- Three photographs
- Age proof certificate
- BPL card

How to apply

1. Download the prescribed Indira Gandhi National Old Age Pension application form from the department's scheme page.
2. Submit the form with three photographs, an age proof certificate and your BPL card at your original place of residence: the gram panchayat or janpad panchayat in a village, or the municipal corporation, municipality or nagar panchayat office in a town.
