Apki Beti Hamari Beti

Haryana puts a one-time sum into an LIC policy for a girl child in eligible families, to support her survival, health and education.

What you may get

A one-time Rs 21,000 is invested with LIC in the name of the girl child, and the girl is paid when she reaches 18 years of age.

Who it is for

Families living in Haryana with a girl child born on or after 22 January 2015 who meet the caste, poverty or birth order rules.

Main conditions

- The first girl child of a Scheduled Caste family, or of a Below Poverty Line family, born on or after 22 January 2015 can qualify.
- A second girl child in any family can qualify whatever the caste or income, if born on or after 22 January 2015. A third girl child in any family is covered from 24 August 2015.
- Parents must be residents of Haryana or hold Haryana domicile, and at least one parent must live in Haryana with the girl.
- The girl's birth must be registered and she needs an Aadhaar number, though the parents' Aadhaar is accepted at enrolment.
- Vaccinations should be on time, with the immunisation record attached, and the girl should be enrolled at an Anganwadi Centre as per her age.

Documents

- Parivar Pehchan Patra number
- Birth certificate as age proof
- One address proof: ration card, voter ID, electricity bill or telephone bill
- Caste certificate (only for Scheduled Caste families)
- BPL certificate (only for BPL families)
- Tikka report or immunisation card
