Attendance Scholarship Scheme for Girl Students with Disabilities

Punjab pays an attendance scholarship to rural girl students with a disability of 40 percent or more, so they stay in school and college.

What you may get

Rs 2500 a year for girl students up to class 10, and Rs 3000 a year from class 11 (10+1) onwards. The District Social Security Officer credits the scholarship online into the student's bank account.

Who it is for

Rural girl students with a disability of 40 percent or more, from low-income families, who attend at least 70 percent of classes.

Main conditions

- The girl student must live in a rural area and have a disability of 40 percent or more under the RPwD Act 2016, shown by a certificate.
- The monthly income of the family or guardian should not exceed Rs 5000.
- Attendance must be at least 70 percent.

Documents

- Disability certificate or UDID showing 40 percent or more disability
- Income certificate showing parents' income below Rs 60,000 a year
- Copy of the bank account details

How to apply

1. Fill in the scholarship application and submit it to the head of your school, college or institution.
2. The head verifies it and forwards it to the District Social Security Officer (DSSO) of your district.
3. The DSSO credits the scholarship online into your bank account.
