Uttarakhand Yaun Aparadh evam Anya Aparadhon se Peedit / Uttarjeevi Mahilaon hetu Pratikar Yojana, 2020 (Uttarakhand Compensation Scheme for Women Victims or Survivors of Sexual and Other Crimes, 2020)

Uttarakhand gives financial compensation, with interim relief at once, to women who are victims of sexual crimes, acid attacks and certain other crimes.

What you may get

Women who are victims of crimes such as rape, gang rape, unnatural sexual assault, acid attack or burns get compensation. There are two parts: interim compensation soon after the crime, which can include free medical treatment or immediate cash help, and a final compensation fixed according to the nature of the crime.

Who it is for

Women of the state, and their dependants, who are victims or survivors of sexual violence, acid attack and similar crimes covered by the scheme.

Main conditions

- The woman is a victim or survivor of a crime covered by the scheme, such as rape, gang rape, unnatural sexual assault, or an acid attack
- For interim compensation, an FIR must be registered, and the police share a copy with the legal services authority
- A woman covered by more than one crime is entitled to the combined compensation

Documents

- Copy of the FIR, medical certificate and Aadhaar card
- Details of any case pending in court and the court orders, bills of treatment and proof of financial loss, where relevant

How to apply

1. Apply to the State Legal Services Authority or the District Legal Services Authority, either in person with a written application or online on the National Legal Services Authority website under the victim compensation option.
2. Attach the FIR, medical certificate and other papers asked for.
3. The competent authority or committee examines the application and the compensation is paid to the victim or her dependant.
