Bharat Ratna Dr. A. P. J. Abdul Kalam Amrut Ahar Yojana

In scheduled (tribal) areas of Maharashtra, Anganwadis serve a full meal to pregnant and lactating mothers and an egg or banana to young children to reduce malnutrition.

What you may get

Pregnant women and lactating mothers get one full meal within a cost limit of Rs 45. The meal has chapati or bhakri, rice, dal, green vegetables, 2 eggs or 2 bananas, and a peanut laddu or soya milk. Children aged 7 months to 6 years get an egg or a banana.

Who it is for

Pregnant women, lactating mothers and young children from 7 months up to 6 years old, living in Anganwadi areas of the scheduled area in Maharashtra.

Main conditions

- The woman or child must live in the area of an Anganwadi or Mini Anganwadi in the scheduled (tribal) area covered by the scheme.
- Pregnant women, breastfeeding mothers and young children between 7 months and 6 years old are covered.
