Revised National Tuberculosis Control Programme

Madhya Pradesh offers free tuberculosis testing and free treatment at government health centres under the Revised National Tuberculosis Control Programme.

What you may get

Sputum testing for TB is free, with one test centre for every 1 lakh people at district hospitals, community health centres, some primary health centres and medical colleges. Treatment is free at the government health centre of every district, and a DOT provider gives it near the patient's home.

Main conditions

- A patient whose sputum test is positive is registered under the programme and then qualifies for free treatment up to village level.

How to apply

1. Go to a sputum test centre at a district hospital, community health centre, some primary health centres or a medical college and get the free test done.
2. If the test is positive, the patient is registered under the programme.
3. Treatment then runs through a DOT provider near the patient's home, and it is free.
