Input Material Support Scheme (NSIC IMSS)

NSIC buys input materials in bulk from producers and passes most of the discount to MSMEs, which can order in small quantities.

What you may get

MSMEs can buy input materials such as steel, aluminium, copper, cement and coal in small or large quantities at producer prices. NSIC lifts bulk quantities from producers like SAIL, NALCO, RINL and CCI and passes most of the discount on. Service charge is a minimum 0.25 per cent of order value for basic raw material and a minimum 3 per cent for end products.

Who it is for

Micro, small and medium enterprises that need input materials for production.

Main conditions

- The buyer is an MSME that needs input materials in small or large quantities.
- The unit gives its requirement to the nearest NSIC branch office, approves the quotation and pays NSIC before supply is ordered.
- Service charges are paid by the MSME or the supplier as set out on the NSIC page.

Documents

- Buyer application form (customer application form)

How to apply

1. Download the buyer application form from the NSIC scheme page or register as a buyer on the scheme portal.
2. Give your input material requirement to the nearest NSIC branch office.
3. Approve the quotation obtained by NSIC, pay NSIC, and receive and accept the material from the supplier.
