Pension to Poor Unmarried Women of age 50 years and above

Tamil Nadu pays a monthly pension to destitute unmarried women aged 50 and above who own very little property. Applications are made online and checked by revenue officials.

What you may get

A monthly pension of Rs 1,200, paid through the State's Direct Benefit Transfer system into the bank account. The State pays Rs 1,200 a month to all pensioners under its social security pension schemes, except the differently abled pension.

Who it is for

Destitute, unmarried women aged 50 years and above in Tamil Nadu whose fixed assets are within the limit set for the scheme.

Main conditions

- The applicant is a destitute woman who has never married.
- The applicant is 50 years old or more.
- The value of fixed (immovable) assets does not exceed Rs 1,00,000, and the value of a free house given by the government is not counted.

How to apply

1. Apply on the online portal for Social Security Scheme pensions, www.tnesevai.tn.gov.in, choosing the pension for unmarried women above 50 years.
2. The Village Administrative Officer and the Revenue Inspector enquire and verify your claim, then recommend approval or rejection to the Tahsildar (Social Security Schemes).
3. Applications are meant to be verified and disposed of within 30 days. After sanction, the pension is paid according to seniority as vacancies arise in the district.
