Nirashrit Vidhwa ki Putriyon ke Vivah hetu Anudan Yojana (Marriage Grant for Daughters of Destitute Widows, Uttarakhand)

Uttarakhand helps widows who receive a widow pension to marry off up to two daughters, with a one-time grant for each daughter.

What you may get

A one-time marriage grant for each of up to two daughters of a destitute widow who gets the state widow pension. The department confirms the pension, and the amount is paid into the beneficiary's bank account after approval.

Who it is for

Destitute widows of Uttarakhand who already receive the widow pension from the Social Welfare Department, for the wedding of a daughter.

Main conditions

- The mother receives the widow pension from the Social Welfare Department, and her income from all sources is within the limit fixed for the scheme, or the family is BPL
- Help is given for at most two daughters, and the bride and groom must be within the age limits set for the scheme
- A caste certificate is not needed under this scheme

Documents

- Same papers as for the Scheduled Caste daughters' marriage grant, without the caste certificate: Aadhaar, photo, domicile certificate, bank account linked with Aadhaar, income or BPL certificate, ration card, birth date proofs, marriage registration certificate and affidavit

How to apply

1. Apply the same way as for the marriage grant for daughters of Scheduled Caste families: on the pension portal ssp.uk.gov.in, the Umang app or eservices.uk.gov.in, yourself or through a Common Service Centre.
2. The Social Welfare Department confirms that you receive the widow pension, then the District Social Welfare Officer approves the grant and pays it into your bank account.
